The Typhoon.

In one of his most stirring ballads Kipling puts into the mouth of the East Wind the "swaggering boast": Look—look well to your shipping! By the breath of my mad typhoon I swept your close-packed Praya and beached your best at Woorla! The reeling junks behind me and the racing seas before me. I raped your richest roadsteads—I plundered Singapore!

With scarcely the change of a word the lines might serve as a bulletin of today's tidings from Kowloon and the nearby seas and shores. —New York Tribune.

Rain and a little more rain, is as much the story at the wharf as anywhere. The river is rising under the general and heavy fall, the gauge this morning registering a stage of 10.6, a rise of 0.3 in the last 24 hours. The rainfall was .60 inches. In the same period, the boats are experiencing the usual difficult conditions following a hard rain, the banks are thick with mud making unloading and loading distasteful work.

With only one rouster and with the mates, clerks, cabin boys and other officers acting as rousters, the Dunbar arrived at 3 o'clock this morning registering a stage of 10.6, a rise of 0.3 in the last 24 hours. The rainfall was .60 inches. In the same period, the boats are experiencing the usual difficult conditions following a hard rain, the banks are thick with mud making unloading and loading distasteful work.

The Kentucky is loading at the wharf this evening at 6 o'clock.

This was the day for the Henry Harley to arrive from Evansville, but the Evansville schedules have been shifted unavoidably forward a day.

The Buttrif is expected to arrive from Nashville Sunday night and wait over till Monday noon before leaving for Clarksville. The Russell Lord is expected out of the Tennessee river today with ties for the Ayer-Lord Tie company.

The beautiful rain practically has suspended operations "around the docks and ways. It is expected to get the Harvester and Speed off next week at the ways and boats to occupy their places will come soon after. Despite the weather the wharfboat was a busy place this morning.

The Dick Fowler got away on time with a full crew and fair business this morning for Cairo.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, will continue rising during the next two days. At Paducah, not much change during the next 24 hours. At Cairo will rise slowly during the next 24 hours.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will probably continue falling.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo, will rise slowly during the next 24 hours.

DR. KING BROOKS, Dentist, Sixth and Broadway.

A Virginia mountaineer who had strayed to Richmond on an excursion, and who, as his holiday progressed, became rather hilarious, grew over confident of his own greatness.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I kin lick any man in Richmond."

No one offered to dispute the assertion, and he tried again.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I kin lick any man in the whole state of Virginia."

The words were hardly out of his mouth before a tall, shrewy man from his own part of the state entered the game and gave the boaster a good thrashing.

The mountaineer had a sense of humor. He slowly picked himself up and faced the group to which he had boasted.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I am ready to acknowledge that I kivered too much territory in that last statement." —Baltimore Sun.

A "Private" Allen Yarn.

"Private" Allen, of Mississippi, while in congress, was fond of telling about a fine old gentleman down in Tupelo whose habit was to sit on a dry goods box and talk politics. His hobby was that the office should seek the man and not the man the office, and he waxed eloquent in the discussion of his chosen theme. Finally he determined to become a candidate himself and went out upon an electioneering tour. When his friends twitted him about his change of front he replied: "Oh, yes the office should be around so that the office may find him." —Exchange.

"Very well, sir," cried Dr. Kwack, after his quarrel with the undertaker, "I'll make you sorry for this."

"What are you going to do," sneered the undertaker, "retire from practice?" —Philadelphia Press.
